EARTHY MEDITERRANEAN TONES

Is there anything more alluring than the thought of relaxing in the Mediterranean landscape? The warm, rosemary scented air, olive trees moving gently in the breeze, and ochre shadows appearing as the sun slowly sets.

Gone are stark, monochromatic colour schemes as people yearn for warmth, comfort, and a touch of nostalgia. Shades of terracotta, mustard, deep red, and olive green create a rich, natural palette that resonates with guests looking for connection and wellbeing.

And it's not just colour; customers are gravitating towards tactile surfaces, curved edges and residential-style comfort.

Material Focus: GENUINE LEATHER

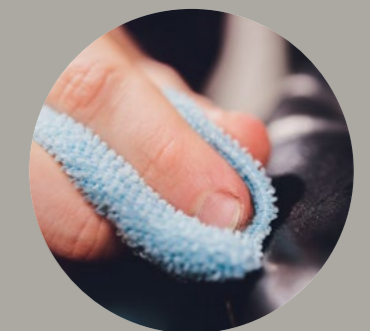

As a natural material, leather often improves with age, but also needs regular care to keep it looking good:

Dust and vacuum regularly with a soft cloth or soft brush attachment, or wipe with a slightly damp cloth.

Place leather furniture at least two feet away from direct heat sources and windows with direct sunlight.

Apply a high-quality commercial leather conditioner every 6-12 months to keep the leather supple.
